THE NEBRASKA HEALTH POLICY SHORT COURSE

July 21 - 22, 2015

9 am – 4:30 pm

Michael Sorrell Center
UNMC Campus
Omaha, NE

Effective health policy is more important than ever. In order to engage in the policy-making process, you must understand how it works. Join us for this two-day workshop introducing public health, population health and health care professionals to the policy design and implementation process.

Through interactive exercises, expert panels and personal assessments, participants will:

- Explain the components of the policy making process
- Identify tools used to choose the most effective policy solutions
- Explore individual and collaborative efforts for influencing the policy making process
- Discuss best practices for effective health policy.

Day One will provide an overview of the policy process; Day Two will bring in policy-makers and advocates to discuss the policy development and change process in Nebraska.

Fees: $125/person

Fees will cover instruction materials, Continuing Education Credits*, and lunch. Travel costs are the responsibility of the home agency.
